

Created: Januar 2026

Liechtenstein Symphony Orchestra

Founded in 1988, the Liechtenstein Symphony Orchestra is the national orchestra of the Principality of Liechtenstein and has earned an outstanding reputation internationally. It is celebrated by audiences and critics alike for its musicality, precision, and passion. The orchestra represents Liechtenstein on tours and guest performances, most recently at Tonhalle Maag in Zurich, the Berlin Philharmonie, Lisinski Concert Hall in Zagreb, the Strasbourg Opera, the Vienna Konzerthaus, the Warsaw Philharmonie, the Krakow Philharmonie, and the Lodz Philharmonie. Together with the municipality of Vaduz, it founded the Vaduz Classic Festival, attracting international concertgoers from across Europe. The orchestra has collaborated with renowned artists including Kit Armstrong, Andrea Bocelli, David Garrett, Maximilian Hornung, the Janoska Ensemble, Jonas Kaufmann, Lang Lang, Lebo M, Sabine Meyer, Fazil Say, Rolando Villazón, Radovan Vlatković, and Antje Weithaas. It also serves as a platform for emerging soloists, regularly inviting highly acclaimed young talents. Since the 2026 season, Dawid Runtz has been Chief Conductor. The orchestra also works with international guest conductors, including Mei-Ann Chen, Kevin John Edusei, Lawrence Foster, Uroš Lajovic, Wayne Marshall, Giedrė Šlekytė, Emmanuel Tjeknavorian, and Yaron Traub.

Words: 183

Characters (including spaces): approx. 1.500